JULY 23, 1940

10 Downing St., London, England.

My Lord:

W 9476

16 AUG 1940

At the suggestion of Mr. Irving in the office of the British Consul in Los Angeles, I am handing you herewith a copy of my "Plan for the Rise of a Nation" compiled last May and by me presented to the British Ambassador and the French Ambassador in Washington, D. C., also to the President of the United States.

This Plan for the Rise of a Nation, as it was originally typed in May, contemplates the settlement of Israel on a share of land of the British or French colonies in, preferably, North-Central Africa. The Plan for a homeland in that particular territory should not be objectionable to Italy; in so far as her desires in the continent of Africa are concerned.

As we all know, ever since the close of the last World War there has been much discussion on the part of Jewish Zionist leaders with regard to the return of Israel to Palestine as prophesied in the bible. It is also true that both Christians and Jews, having adopted the Old Testament of the bible, share that belief but the solution of the problem confronting us is the manner through which this return will eventually be accomplished.

Here in America, our newspapers have carried accounts of the protests of Great Britain against the dispatching by both Premier Mussolini and Stalin of agitators for the purpose of creating disturbances throughout Palestine and Egypt; disturbances, which resulted in some cases in minor revolts and in the determination among Arabian leaders to prohibit the Jews from returning into Palestine. Also, we are told that the Communistic Party dispatched Jewish agitators into Arabia to incite similar revolt.

Throughout all Christian countries, the matter of Jewish persecution and the control of anti-Jewish forces is a burden upon those nations; at the same time, those same nations bear the stigma of "Jewish persecution."

With regard to Palestine and a Jewish population of perhaps 500,000, the British government cannot risk Arabian revolution at this time.

In this connection, some 10,000 square miles of mountainous territory surrounded by Arabian enemies, would not be conducive to a solution of the Jewish problem.

Therefore, my Plan as typed in May suggested that both Great Britain and France select a parcel of land in North-Central Africa more sparsely settled, for a Jewish homeland under the protection of Great Britain, France (then still fighting on the side of the Allies) and the United States of America.

Of the 12 Tribes of Israel, two Tribes scattered throughout the entire world have come to be known as the leaders among Jews over a period of the past 2000 years. These leaders of the two Tribes find themselves divided into small groups, at odds with each other and with all fellowmen. Averaging 8,000,000 people to each of the Tribes, these two represent a population of approximately 16,000,000.

Also, of the 12 Tribes of Israel, the remaining 10 Tribes known as the "10 Lost Tribes" are in the main scattered throughout the continents of Asia and Africa under both the British and French flags. Again, averaging 8,000,000 people to each of these Tribes, the 10 Lost Tribes represent a total population of perhaps 80,000,000. And, it is with particular reference to these 10 Tribes, that it is my urgent desire to make personal contact with the leading Mohammedan Chieftans looking toward peace between them and Israel in the name of our forefather, Abraham.

I therefore am offering myself for military service under the British government, to be sent at your will into the British Colonies with a view to calling upon all of these 10 "Lost" Tribes to the colors of Great Britain at this time when she needs their help -- with the assurance of a homeland for their efforts at the close of the conflict. On June 14th, when France was still fighting on the side of the Allies, I also forwarded a copy of my Plan for the Rise of a Nation, as before stated, to the British and French Ambassadors, also to President Roosevelt, who acknowledged receipt of the manuscript.

In this connection, on June 18th I also received the following letter from the British Embassy in Washington, D. C.:

" I am to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 14th June, and to inform you that your Plan for the settlement of the Jewish question has been noted.

I am, Sir, Yours very truly, F. R. Hoyer Millar, Sec."

However, I received no reply from the French Embassy and shortly following that same date was acquainted through our local newspapers, with conditions existing in the French government.

The question arises in my mind, what disposition might the French Embassy make of the copy of the Plan for the Rise of a Nation, which I forwarded to them under date of June 14th?

There does exist the possibility that the French Embassy might turn the Plan over to the present French government, or that the Plan might fall into the hands of Germany or Italy. Of course, this is only a matter of conjecture but it does warrant deep thought.

Finally, having in mind the greatest margin of safety for your receipt of this letter, I am sending it via air mail to New York, thence boat direct to London, in the hope also that I shall receive an early reply consistent with present delivery of first-class mail.

It is my sincere hope that the God of us all will bless with victory all efforts of Great Britain in the current struggle, likewise all efforts of Israel in the settlement of the conflict.

It is my earnest hope that in the ultimate selection of a homeland for Israel, Christian nations will be relieved of the stigma of "persecution of the Jews" -- and, that respect and peace will be engendered between all individuals and between all the nations of the world.

In closing, I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your Obedient Servant,

Abraham S Rosen

TO THE UNDER-SECRETARY OF STATE

Subject: No. W-9476-9476/48

Sir:

On July 23d I addressed a letter to the Right Honourable Winston Churchill, 10 Downing Street, London, enclosing a copy of my "Plan for the Rise of a Nation" regarding the Jewish question.

On August 21st at the direction of Viscount Halifax, your office acknowledged receipt of my letter informing me that my offer to serve His Majesty's Government in a military capacity for the objects stated cannot in present circumstances be accepted.

The international complication throughout Europe, Asia and Africa continues. In its solution, must be understood and recognized the right of all nations large and small, to their existence. In order to recognize other nations, every one of these should understand itself.

Both sides of such a question must be typed into manuscript form. The production of the lands involved must be analyzed. Also, the character of the people native to those countries. What is the extent of education of these people and their leaders? How much of good would their independence mean to all?

By the same token, how much of harm would their independence mean to them as a nation? Also, in the same vein must be solved the economic problems of these nations. When once all enjoy equal rights to the necessities of life, there will be no more revolution. The greatest errors of Germany and Italy in the present War have been due to their strategic aims and ignorance.

In this connection, the first error on the part of Italy was to join Germany in this War. In the light of present events, Italy can only be endangered.

The second error on the part of both Italy and Germany was their agitation among the Asiatic and African colonies to arouse the natives against Great Britain and France.

Once the Asiatic and African colonies have revolted, not only Britain and France would be affected. Half of the nations of the European continent would then be affected.

Communist Russia hangs like a black cloud over all of our six continents. It is well known that she has established workers in every country to lift up the Red Flag when the time is ripe.

They consider the time "ripe" either during a present war or following a war. Under a capitalistic system the public suffers. At the present time, we have reason to believe that students in colleges have been organized to lead such a revolt.

Before Germany marched on Poland, she made a pact with Russia. Why did the latter make this treaty with Germany? We all know that she bears no high regard for Germany or for any other nation. To the contrary, she anticipates revolution throughout the oppressed countries of Europe during this war.

Russia has only an equal regard for Britain, France, Germany and Italy. She anticipates the fall of these four nations and the rise of communism. In her eyes the smaller nations are of less importance. She has been of material help to Hitler in Germany. Together they took Poland. What action did Germany take in the half that she conquered?

Germany oppressed the Polish public, while Russia sovietized the half that she conquered. In her half, the Polish public has been fed. Then, she left Germany to proceed with the War they started. She is biding her time until the nations have become exhausted. Hence, this is the logical time for Britain to send a representative into Asia and Africa, to unite the Mohammedan races into a new nation friendly to England.

Such a new Mohammedan nation united under Great Britain could enjoy its own form of government, constitution and flag. These races and their tribes could then enjoy their own homeland. These tribes could be united into a colony of Israel, a tract of unoccupied territory in perhaps North-Central Africa. However, such a union should be consummated with the least possible delay before any probably uprising of these Mohammedan natives.

Such a union should continue under the protection of Britain. These Mohammedans would be awaiting the coming of Mohammed, just as the Christians await the coming of Christ. The Hebrews would be awaiting the coming of Messiah to Palestine -- their King David. This would build a homeland where the 10 Lost Tribes -- now scattered throughout Asia and Africa -- together with the two Tribes scattered throughout the European continent -- could take refuge in the event of future expulsion from other countries.

In the event His Majesty's Government could accept my services in any related capacity during the continuance of this present War, will you please advise me through Mr. Irving in the office of the British Consul at Los Angeles.

I would not ask any monetary remuneration for services to the British Empire -- only transportation to the point of the service. Further, if such an arrangement were to jeopardize my American citizenship, I would be willing to surrender my rights.

ALL THIS, IN THE CAUSE OF A SINCERE ENDEAVOR TO UNITE INTO A PEACEFUL NATION FRIENDLY TO THE BRITISH EMPIRE, THE ISRAELITES SCATTERED THROUGHOUT THE CONTINENTS OF ASIA AND AFRICA!

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your Obedient Servant,

Abraham S. Rosen

PLAN FOR THE RISE OF A NATION

Abraham S. Rosen

I. The Jewish Question

Why is it that both Christians and Jews evade the question of the liberation of Israel, and why do religious leaders oppose research looking toward the return of the nation to Palestine?

Today, the Israelites make every endeavor to appear like Christians, but still there lies a gulf that has not been bridged since the question is not one of class, and all Hebrews are Jews.

The settlement of the question involves the entire Hebrew nation scattered throughout the six continents under all flags. There are 400,000,000 followers of Buddha and Mohammed alone. The time is ripe and this should be settled without further procrastination.

The leaders among the Israelites, the Zionists, the Rabbis should bring this question out into the open with full responsibility for its solution. Certainly if they were to promote a council to lay plans, the Christian and Asiatic and African nations would cooperate fully.

Looking toward a solution of the question, the Christians through the press should present in a logical manner a plan for settling the Israelites on a parcel of land, to be a homeland for those in distress. There should be immediate action looking toward a permanent answer, a council of conscientious leaders organized to lay plans for the rebuilding of Israel.

These men should be highly educated, with supreme courage and ample means to act speedily. What a practical conclusion would be reached, if the question were solved as outlined in this Plan. However, before it can be finally disposed of there must be found an answer to the individual problem of the three nations who at the present time harbor a desire to rule the whole world.

Let us hope that here in the United States, the Christians under leadership of perhaps Secretary Cordell Hull of the Department of State will take up this question for prompt solution. A step to be taken locally looking toward a settlement of the problem, is the establishment in one of the 48 states of a headquarters from which should be disseminated a respect for human right of all beings to live on God's earth in liberty and freedom; the organization of an international council of leaders among Christians and Mohammedans to recognize the necessity for a permanent homeland for Israel somewhere in Africa, under the guardianship of the governments of the United States, Great Britain and France; extension of full opportunity to all of the 10 Lost Tribes of Israel to settlement in the territory so selected, and the power of self government.

This Plan provides: 1. Early contact with Great Britain, France, President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull, with a view to settlement of the question of location for a national homeland for all of the 12 Tribes of Israel, to be united under the Kingdom of Israel;

2. Declaration of the doctrines of the Hebrew religion as founded in the Old Testament as the national and only religion which may be practised under the Constitution, with toleration extended to no other philosophy or ism;

3. Appointment of a Special Council comprised of leaders in national affairs and religious education, to consummate brotherhood treaties with the Mohammedans of Africa and Asia;

4. Contact with all Israelite millionaires, with a view to organizing and uniting them in active financial investment in building up the territory so chosen;

5. Signing of the Constitution by the General Staff in the presence of and witnessed by a representative each from the United States, Great Britain and France; whereupon the building up of the territory may proceed with a margin of safety of financial investments.

II. Germany and Russia

At the present time, Germany threatens the safety of the entire world, while during the past 20 years many of the nations have overlooked Chancellor Hitler's ambitions.

Hitler has not presented one logical reason for depriving his Jewish citizens of their right to live in peace in a civilized nation, and in the eyes of humanity Germany has no ground to interpose any objection in the issue at hand.

Drunk with power, Hitler likewise has representatives in all nations for the purpose of promoting the doctrines of Nazism.

In Germany, it is the desire of national leaders to use the manpower of the nation to invade the territory of others and to dominate the poorer classes.

Following every conference between Prime Minister Chamberlain of England and either Hitler in Germany or Mussolini in Italy, additional armies were sent into other smaller nations and they were invaded, sacrificed under the guise of protection.

Upon the announcement of a mysterious covenant between Hitler in Germany and Stalin in Russia, they sent armies into Poland, invaded that nation and divided it between them. For the safety of mankind, these two countries should be stripped of power through which they may be enabled to invade other nations.

Germany and Russia, drunk with false theories, cannot be considered in a project to return Israel to national life. Great Britain up to this date has been the leading world power on both land and sea, but now she is threatened by these two countries with a desire to rule the world through Nazism and through Communism.

Russia with her desires and Germany with representatives in all nations for the purpose of promoting her doctrines, are a combined potential threat to the safety of the United States, Great Britain and France. At the close of the World War, in 1919 Russia sent representatives into all continents to promote her doctrines through the organization of agitators among groups of capital and labor, and to establish headquarters. Through a solution of her own labor problem so that all might enjoy the necessities of life, that potential threat to the world would be eliminated. She was directly responsible for sowing the seed of communism throughout the Gentile and Hebrew organizations in the United States. By the same token, she was in part answerable for the revolt against General Chiang Kaishek in China.

III. Motion Picture Industry

The motion picture industry at present is producing war propaganda and depicting rackets, apparently having exhausted worthwhile material.

In this connection, a new motion picture project should be considered, and both the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and Warner Brothers Studios should be called upon for support of our program in its entirety including a feature length picture already in manuscript form.

In the event of a sale of the picture or of the entire Plan, such funds would be used in the development of the homeland project contemplating a colony where Israel may settle as a nation under the flag of the Lion of Judaea. History might well be depicted by means of a motion picture showing the origin of the Old Testament for all humankind, the struggle of Israel for its very existence and freedom, the golden calf and the copper snake fashioned by Moses, the iniquity among the tents of Moab and the revolt against Korah.

Such a motion picture could not help but enlighten the general public of all nations, and surely all Christian Protestant organizations having foreign missionaries would be willing to support such a plan to put an end to the persecution of Israel and bring them into a homeland of their own.

The plan for organizing a motion picture company contemplates the purchase of approximately 200 acres of land in the state of California, through organization of a club of workers who can aid in defraying the purchase price by payments on the principal, taxes and also insurance; likewise, the purchase of necessary equipment for the use of pioneer workers.

Such a motion picture portraying the struggles of the Jewish nation should so far as is feasible, open with the following:

Scene 1 -- Hebrew life in the Dark Ages under Christian masters, slave ships stopping at the ports of European countries, affluent Jews paying the captains of these ships a per capita sum for the slaves, taking them into the Ghettos and freeing them out of this common fund;

2 -- Hebrew life in the Middle Ages, routed from other nations, dispossession from their Ghettos and flight into France;

3 -- Hebrew life in a Russian village under the reign of a Czar;

4 -- Hebrew massacre with Cossacks throwing their victims into jail;

5 -- Hebrew life in an Austrian village about 1890.

Through a possible sale to a motion picture producer of the collection of books and magazines, newspapers and manuscripts on hand, including the proposed feature picture portraying the Liberation of Israel and the Plan outlining the building up of the Kingdom somewhere in Africa, then construction could be undertaken with a further guarantee annually in advance to apply on the expense of:

1. Contacting the British and French governments for selection of the territory in Africa;
2. Contacting the Mohammedan leaders for their full cooperation;
3. Converting all available funds into active building projects;
4. Promoting the construction of a Hebrew "Hollywood" in the territory so selected;
5. Calling for pioneers from a radius of 1000 miles from "Hollywood" in the territory selected;
6. Constructing ample sewerage systems in each of the villages;
7. Constructing a water-mill for the manufacture of flour; and,

8. Constructing temporary residence buildings of adobe type from clay deposits within the territory, also kerosene-oil street and residence lighting.

The collection of hundreds of pounds of newspapers and some magazines dating back to the year 1928, also writings, further include many old books now out of print.

These writings cover actual events of the past 50 years, plans for the next step in peaceful relations between nations and religions, which longhand compositions will necessarily need to be typed in manuscript form.

The first to be typed in separate manuscript form should be a detail plan for: 1 -- Selection and acquisition of territory for the homeland;
2 -- Raising funds for the rebuilding of the homeland;
3 -- Subdivision and erection of cities, villages and farms;
4 -- Private ownership of property with no income tax levy;
5 -- Development of industries and of markets;
6 -- Import and export of necessities for human life;
7 -- Payment of a reasonable sum for products and produce;
8 -- Availability to all citizens of such farm produce;
9 -- Government protection to all workers, with supervision of education and regulation of all hospitals.

The next writings to be typed in manuscript form should be the plays depicting the struggle for human existence, each to take its name appropriately from its particular nation.

These writings also provide a plan for peace between all Israelites including those who adhere to the old Traditions, those who are reformed Jews and those who have embraced Christianity, a common pathway leading to a democratic freedom and liberty based upon the teachings of God.

How can we induce others to respect our Flag? One answer is, that respect which originates in the Ten Commandments: "Honor thy father and thy mother." Throughout all classes of Jews, there is a gross lack of respect for one's fellowman; among the Christian nations of today we find more respect.

The nations of the world are wont to believe their power lies in the strength of their armies, wholly disregarding the power of right over wrong, and the development of will power to respect the natural desires and the rights of surrounding nations. "Respect" for the opinion of our fellowmen must be employed in attaining that end and, with it as a guide, all human matters could be settled and not only families but nations would honor one another.

IV. Italy and China

Italy has perhaps 50,000 Israelites in her country of 45,000,000 inhabitants, a small percentage. But, fearful of Israel as a unit nation, she might offer opposition to the assignment of unoccupied territory in Africa for the Kingdom of Israel.

However, if Italy or any other nation should offer an objection to such a plan, let her place her cards on the table so that proper action may be taken.

Then too, Italy might join with the Arabs in opposing such a proposition. Premier Mussolini, having made a covenant with the Vatican that in return for its support in the rebuilding of the Roman Empire, he will bring all conquered territory under the domination of Catholicism, has sent agents into all British and French colonies to promote his scheme.

Italy with a desire to rebuild the Roman Empire is a potential threat to all colonies in Europe, Asia and Africa bordering on the Mediterranean Sea, the Black Sea, the Red Sea and the Indian Ocean.

Today, the European nations are slaughtering one another, Arabian and Mohammedan colonies are verging on revolt, and Japan and China are massacring each other. The China-Japan problem should be solved peacefully between the two nations. This Plan contemplates that within a period of two months from the consummation of a contract with a studio for the possible sale of a motion picture, contact should then be made with General Chiang Kaishek in China to promote the return of the Israelites in that country to their national homeland.

If history repeats itself, Communistic Russia may have another revolution and the Hebrews there may be further persecuted. There has always existed an under-current between Christians and Jews, in which all are cognizant of the persecution of the latter down through the ages. But, Christian people in general have, all along, abhorred the persecution of the Jews. Surely all nations now enjoying a homeland would be relieved to see the burden of Jewish persecution lifted from their people since each of these countries is engulfed in numerous other troubles, at the present time.

Certainly if the United States, Great Britain and France have the desire to make peace between Hebrews and Christians, a channel will open up through which they may deal with each other. They would be happy to see the Israelites permitted to live in peace. During those periods of peace between the Christians and the Jews or no agitation between them, then it is that the Jews turn away from one another. Peace on earth will only be attained when all nations have a national homeland, wherein they shall be free to exercise their choice of government and of religion. Let there be peace between Israel and all other nations on earth!

V. Ism and Religion

Many present day ills throughout all nations might be cured if the United States with a population of 130,000,000 would join with France's 65,000,000 and Great Britain's 45,000,000, in segregating Israel's population of approximately 50,000,000 in a national homeland.

If in the United States we should have a record of every nationality represented since the discovery of North America, their villages and industries, finances and religion, we could more ably judge which of the nations had been wronged.

Even in the United States, there exist organizations who plan to drive out the Israelites, placing an unpleasant burden on this nation because of the ill feeling between Anti-Semitic Christians and the Hebrews. We find influential Jews in all lines of business, in the aviation and banking industry, exporting and importing, iron and steel foundries, real estate and insurance -- minerals and oil, shipbuilding and public utilities, bus and railroad transportation.

Today, as a result of apparent abandonment at the hands of both Christian and Hebrew leaders who are in many instances exploiting religion to serve their own purposes, thousands of good souls in the poorer neighborhoods through no fault of their own are becoming the prey of dangerous isms... the Christians and the Jews, the Mexican and the colored. The leading Jews have not attempted to attack communistic organizations, although they realize that where such isms gain a foothold the space will be poisoned for generations to come. If only labor unions were under proper supervision, there would be no excuse for any union leaders or others to thrust upon our youths in college the doctrines of present day isms. It required slavery to bring about a fuller measure of liberty and freedom. Liberty and freedom have to some extent deteriorated into rackets and racketeering, responsible for many of the isms of today.

Everywhere since the beginning of Judaism, the Jews have clashed with leaders in politics because of the philosophy of the Hebrew religion, diametrically opposite to that of the Christian faith. To understand the religion of either one must be a philosopher and a wiseman, while to attempt an understanding of religion with inadequate knowledge may be compared with striving to erect a brick structure without sufficient mortar to unite the bricks.

All governments should have a special council for fixing the wages of labor, wholly cognizant of the necessities of life and the psychology of human nature. Human beings aspire to possession through their labor and realizing they are handicapped in attaining that to which their aspirations aim, are tempted to take advantage of their fellowmen sometimes through ignorance of the rights of all under God's creation.

Certainly the leaders in all Christian nations are agreed that Israel is entitled to a share of land on God's earth, and having adopted the Old Testament they should respect it by permitting the Israelites to live in freedom. The history of the Hebrew nation has been a struggle for a share of land where they may enjoy liberty and freedom, and when God has returned the children of Israel to the promised land to be punished no longer, then certainly will the nations of the world cease their persecution of each other.

VI. Vatican and Rome

The question, then, is what can be done to solve the Jewish problem?

There are today, leaders in almost every nation who have an earnest desire to have this settled.

Whereas, the problem of nation against nation, Gentile against Hebrew, Hebrew against Jew, might be solved through the medium of:

1. A council to prepare prints and manuscripts to dramatize in motion picture form the struggle for human existence;
2. Research to prepare in book form all of the dead languages, to accurately translate and interpret all bibles from the beginning;
3. Research to prepare maps indicating the boundary lines of all countries from the beginning of the nations;
4. Research to show the economic and social life of every nation down through the ages, the birth and fall of each of these nations, in detail.

The 400,000,000 followers of Buddha and of Mohammed must also be considered in a solution of the problem to effect peace on earth, between all nations.. When the Christian people are given an opportunity to fully comprehend the wrong that has been done, they will be happy to lend their help. However, at the present time Hebrew leaders are hesitant to offer suggestions as to a practical answer to this question.

A Special Council shall be organized in every nation of the world, to cooperate with the Israelites in forming a pioneer organization to be transported to the new settlement chosen somewhere in Africa, from which point transportation may be completed through the means of automobile, horse and wagon, or ox cart caravan. Each of such caravans shall be highly organized and amply protected against attack by forest outlaws, wild animals or disease while conducting the pioneers of all ages, the crippled, their baggage, horses, cattle and sheep.

In the rebuilding of this homeland a few Hebrew millionaires might be interested to invest in the establishment of a factory to build an air fleet for light freight and passenger transportation with insurance coverage to both. By the same token, the automobile magnate Henry Ford, might be interested to invest in the establishment of his own factory to build tractors, automobiles, motorcycles and bicycles.

However, in the rebuilding of this homeland it may be expected that the Vatican would concurrently arouse Catholicism against Jewry. And, if the Vatican should not come out openly on the subject, then it would be assumed that they shared the opposition of the State.

It is logical to believe that Italy's greatest opposition to the return of the children of Israel to Palestine would be on the basis of their return instead, into Ethiopia and the British and French colonies... to help build up those regions and again be driven out by Mussolini's army. A solution of Italy's problem where the Vatican prevails might be brought about by presenting, for the attention of Pope Pius, the origin of the various religions in their struggle for existence, in motion picture form depicting the sword as applied to religion in the history of every nation.

VII. National Leaders Fear

Today, all Israel finds itself engulfed in a maze of national difficulties.

Certainly all Israelites wish to assume their own national responsibilities, and through education and the elimination of fear they can and will be a good nation.

Hebrew leaders, the Zionists, the Orthodox Rabbis and Jewish millionaires everywhere fear that others may consider them fanatic. Today the leaders in national, religious and business life are interested in accomplishing their own purposes.

Kings and Lords, leaders everywhere fear lest others consider them fanatic. The millionaire, the business man, the general public is compelled to fight for a livelihood through fear which could be eliminated from our lives.

Consider also, the three religions, Protestant and Catholic and Hebrew: The Protestant church embracing Jesus as the Saviour, the Catholic religion acknowledging the Pope as its head, the Hebrew faith as laid down in the Old Testament -- all three based upon a primary belief in God, and the followers in each of them have taken advantage of each other down through the centuries. Many errors have crept into religions, not through dishonesty but through ignorance.

Approximately 95% of the entire Jewish nation is scattered throughout the continents of Europe, Asia and Africa. At the present time the remaining 5% is living among the other nations in a state of confusion, with no national responsibilities.

Upon organization of the group of Christian movie stars to produce a feature picture depicting the liberation of Israel, there should also be organized a charter council to consummate plans for contacting the 21 Christian nations with cooperation, if possible, of the President of the United States. Later, their playwrights shall produce other pictures in succession portraying the history of other leading nations.

Upon completion of the Plan and organization of a General Staff, they should designate an assignment of duties to each leader and worker. Upon formulation of the Constitution and determination of the date of Declaration, then each leader and worker should proceed to carry out his particular assignment immediately.

A company of pioneers should be organized in the following units:

1. Builders of roads in accordance with maps of the territory selected;
2. Clearers of land to eliminate the dangers arising from stagnant waters, unnecessary wild growth, animals and mosquitoes;
3. Irrigation experts to deepen all existing channels for transportation purposes, and to create a network of rivers and streams into all desert sections;
4. Surveyors of land to subdivide it into cities, villages and farmlands;
5. Builders of dams to provide adequate water supply, streets and sewerage systems, government structures and private construction.

VIII. Jesus and Israel

The Israelites cannot be forced to believe in Jesus, and Christians cannot be forced to deny Christianity.

The history of the culture and language of all of the 10 Lost Tribes of Israel would assist in determining the true life of Jesus, and both Christians and Hebrews would have a new light on the New Testament and the religions of Christianity discovered through the historic languages of the ancient past.

There are perhaps 100,000,000 Israelites scattered to the four corners of the earth, and it is going to prove a gigantic undertaking to return them into the Kingdom of Israel, to live at peace with each other and with the nations of the world. But, it can be worked out -- through wisdom and diplomacy, through the law of compensation.

Each of the 12 Tribes of Israel chose its tribal flag from the color of a precious stone, and for perhaps a thousand years they were scattered throughout Palestine living under the traditions of their religion. Consider the national flag as the pride of one's country, also the flag and government combined as comparable with the parents in the home.

All nations including Israel are entitled to their own home, liberty and freedom. Why not let the Jews acquire a share of land for their national home, to enjoy freedom of religion just as do the other nations on earth?

The Talmudic language is ancient Aramaic-Babylonian and in our Hebrew language there is sufficient room to apply all of these Talmudic-Aramaic words. From this combination of Hebrew, Talmudic and Aramaic words a new language shall be formed, to be called the "Hebrew language."

The League for promotion of the return of Israel to a national homeland shall be known as the United National League, and each nation joining shall have its own flag. Every nation joining this movement should adopt a common emblem, as a sign of good will toward each sister nation in the League.

The government of every nation should also be responsible for education, for capital and labor, also labor unions. Man is entitled to sufficient education before assuming the responsibilities of earning a livelihood and to be lifted out of the ignorant classes, to a plane of refinement and happiness.

Why should the government not also control all unionized labor, and put to work all those leaders of the workers' unions who have capitalized on the workers and poisoned the industry?

IX. Capitalism and Communism

Let us also consider the present capitalistic system which not only tends to retard progress but to produce inferior products.

The history of perhaps 90% of the Jewish youth of capitalists in all countries has been that of indolence and exploitation, whereas the same percentage of youth in the poorer classes if given the proper opportunity would welcome the chance to progress in the world.

The close of the World War witnessed the beginning of Russia's sowing the seeds of communism throughout the colleges, clubs and churches in all continents. It is a sad fact that among the Israelites are found many communists. A non-communistic Hebrew loathes the communistic Jew, yet they are not separated.

The worker in any industry is entitled to a balanced environment, where the finer qualities of life overbalance all others. Why should not the worker as well as the employer be protected under government supervision, by a weekly check of all factories and shops to determine whether or not the employers are making an accurate return of the employees' deductions?

In the Dark Ages, the Israelites were intermittently thrown into bondage. In the past 20 years, Christian nations have been teaching in their schools a history of the Dark Ages when they themselves suffered much persecution.

Why should the small gip shops remain open on Sundays when they have only sufficient employment for seven months of the year, and when even in slack periods they do not work the full week but appear to be rushed on Sundays? And, why should the gip employer with little to do be permitted to open his shop on Sundays with the secret hope that another of his caliber will drop in to discuss business, or why rush his employees through one lot of work on a single day with the knowledge that on the next day there will be no work, and the employe will be laid off and, broken in spirit, required to take an enforced vacation!

In this connection, in the rebuilding of the homeland the news magnate, William R. Hearst, might be interested to invest $1,000,000 in the purchase of lumber and establishment of his own company to dispense lumber for building construction and furniture, or in the establishment of his own paper mill and presses for a publishing company, either of which would afford employment to the citizens of the homeland.

X. America and Arizona

Let us, then, consider this human struggle philosophically and as borne out by history, visualizing the white races of European nations as they sailed the broad Atlantic and many landed in the Americas; the hardships and massacres of the early pioneers, sickness and disease germs through lack of sanitation, fraud in claims and in deeds to land, loss of homes because of dishonesty and of exploitation among leaders.

The local headquarters from which plans might be laid for a preliminary settlement may be established on approximately 1000 acres of land in the state of Arizona, for the assembly of hundreds of Jewish youth toward the working out of the Plan founded upon righteousness and respect for human life as laid down by the Old Testament, in which there shall be no condemnation of any nation whose leaders have seemingly been unable to fit themselves into present-day society and are in mental distress.

It is known to every intelligent Israelite and Christian alike, that the former is not welcome in any nation on earth.

If the Hebrews are not liked by the nations of the world, they cannot force themselves upon those nations. Bad habits and ill manners will not engender among others a liking for the Jews.

Nations go down either through civil war or revolution, aggression or invasion by others. The proper environment from cradle to the grave, would tend to produce a nation instilled with human kindness.

The Israelites are incapable of understanding human feeling among other nations, having been brought up akin to gipsies, to enjoy life through a system of taking advantage of those with whom they deal in the business world. Where is the self-respect of our Hebrew leaders, and why do they not take some action?

As regards the Hebrew nation at the present time, preceding the Jewish New Year, Rosh Hashoni, many cantors are wont to sing over the radio to advertise their synagogues. An early step in the rebuilding of Israel entails arrangements with the governments of the United States, Great Britain and France in the selection of sufficient territory in perhaps the continent of Africa among the friendly Mohammedans, the entire project falling under the guardianship of these three nations.

Political headquarters should be established in the territory, consisting of a council with its personnel, to issue a call for all of the lost Tribes of Israel to cooperate in the work, including the Mohammedans since they are descendants of Abraham and of the Semitic race; the colony so established to accept as citizens all Jews from whatever nation or language, and to require of all citizens a pledge and oath of allegiance to the Flag of Yehudo and the constitution of the Kingdom of Israel -- founded by Jacob.

XI. Compilations and Congress

Compilations of ancient history will disclose that the Japanese nation who maintain their Emperor and his ancestors were delegated by God to rule the world and in the name of such authority commit the slaughter of the Chinese, was originally a band of wild nomadic tribes struggling for existence and through their own efforts they became a nation.

At the present time, Hebrew Rabbis are generally cultivating the acquaintance of business men to accomplish their purpose, and the Jewish Congress is composed of financiers and bankers, realtors and other leaders in their particular field of endeavor.

In the rebuilding of the homeland, there shall be an agreement drawn up between the governments of the United States, Great Britain and France with the Kingdom of Israel, covering the sum to be paid by Israel for such territory as may be selected, and the deed to pass to the Kingdom of Israel; with religion and culture to be determined only by Israel.

Digressing for a moment, why the sudden attack against Freemasonry, using that ideal to attack the Jews? The reason for the Hebrew's feeling that he is not welcome in any nation would only lead to discussion.

Since the time of Abraham, many national and religious changes have taken place. The time has arrived when the Jewish nation must progress beyond the class of peddlers.

From the Rabbis down to the workers, when in conversation they talk only of business. However, in the rebuilding of the homeland we ask nothing of any nation or individual, without expecting to compensate that nation and that individual.

Psalms 116, Paragraph 16, says: "The heavens are the heavens of the Lord, God; but the earth hath he given to the children of men." Also, in the days of the ancient past, human life was forecast with astrology as a natural basis.

At the present time, the farmers who till the soil and produce the nations' cattle and milk, cotton and tobacco, fruits and vegetables, are realizing little profit as compared with the millions of dollars reaped annually by those persons who handle this same produce in quantity shipments.

XII. India and Mohammed

Contact should be made with a national leader in India and other countries exclusive of the warring nations of Germany, Italy, Japan and Russia to promote the return of the Israelites in those countries to their national homeland.

It would also be well to make a covenant with the Mohammedan leaders, based on the understanding that their race and the Hebrews are brothers.

Jewish leaders hesitate to make suggestions as to a homeland, lest the Anti-Semites would immediately endeavor to rid business of all Israelites. If the question were solved as outlined in this Plan, ill feeling between nations would gradually pass away and along with it, hatred for the Hebrew nation would be a thing of the past.

A fund of several millions of dollars should be raised if possible, with which to start the project, through non-interest bearing loans on the part of every member of Israel ranging in amounts from $10 up to one million. This fund shall be used in the construction of cities and villages, surveying and clearing of farmlands, building of roads and dams, electric power and water supply, channel and irrigation projects, caravan and other transportation, school buildings and medical supplies.

In the history of Israel, every 50 years a jubilee was declared, preceded by an entire year of holiday -- the 49th in each cycle. All contracts, mortgages and all notes were canceled as having been fulfilled and the property concerned reverted to the owner or in the event of death previously, to his estate.

Consider the record of social life of the civilized nations of six continents over the past 4000 years. Kings and Presidents, the leaders in almost every race and nation are Freemasons.

However, the nations do not yet comprehend the meaning of justice and righteousness. In the rebuilding of Israel, upon completion of the compilation of history of every nation they shall be made into motion pictures for the enlightenment of the entire world.

One of the greatest difficulties in working out the Plan is to locate the logical individual or individuals, to back it both morally and financially. The Jewish Congress is not seriously devoting its efforts to rebuild Israel, with the result that the Hebrew layman finds himself groping in the dark.

The local headquarters perhaps in Arizona shall be a foundation for spiritual guidance as opposed to any of the present day isms, and from the buildings housing this institution shall fly both the Stars-and-Stripes of the United States, and the Flag of Yehudo of the Kingdom of Israel.

XIII. Playwrights and Personnel

In organizing a local motion picture company, it will be necessary to select a number of historical research workers, playwrights and actors to organize under proper supervision, workers qualified to weave by hand and embroider by machine the individual flags of the 12 Tribes of Israel with other emblems and biblical designs from the Old Testament, and all of such workers shall receive a share of the land from their efforts in promoting this project.

Specifically, the personnel of the local council to act speedily should consist of approximately 10 European born Rabbis, five American born college-graduate Rabbis, five Professors of Latin language, 25 Hebrew and 25 Gentile typists, capable of analyzing accurately the character of every race over the past 5000 years -- their national and home life, their language and religion... such data to be compiled in manuscript form showing the changes in national boundary lines, also the movement of individuals from city to city down to the present time.

Included among the cases of books and magazines, newspapers and writings pertaining to this Plan in storage in New York state, is one book in the Hebrew language containing short historical sketches from the time of Abraham down to the close of the 19th century.

Within the covers of this book are sufficient references to others that should present a vivid historical picture, covering that period of time. In this connection, the Jewish Passover is a holiday to celebrate the victory of slave as against master, slavery of body and of mind.

Christian religious leaders are hesitant to preach the fulfillment of prophecy, and by the same token Jewish Rabbis are not teaching a genuine knowledge of these passages, while both sides decry the evident lack of faith in their leadership. Good, Christian people are long since weary of complaints and protests against the Jews.

A national homeland movement would bring an end to persecution of the Israelites, and establish them under their own flag. With the project started, certainly the wealthier Hebrews would be ready to assume the responsibility for the freedom of Israel.

In the event of objection on the part of any nation, answers shall be prepared and submitted to such a nation. In view of potential opposition on the part of Italy, what can be done?

Why are so many families miserable today and why are their difficulties brought into the courts? It is the gangster who does not possess anything, but lives through preying upon others.

XIV. Tribes and Rabbis

The matter of organizing and uniting all masses from all of the Tribes of Israel will be difficult of accomplishment, but will be possible through sincere effort.

How can we respect the Rabbis who will not jeopardize their position in the synagogue, in a cause of righteousness?

In the final analysis, the Hebrew remains a stranger in a strange land and even in the United States, among us are the Reformed Jews who would cultivate the favor of Christian leaders by constructing their synagogues after the fashion of Gentile churches. When Israel rebelled against bondage and was led out of Egypt by Moses, it was for the purpose of re-establishing them as a nation under the Old Testament and under the Ten Commandments, their constitution.

What a sense of relief the Christian nations would experience, once Israel had been returned to its own homeland! The Hebrew leaders hesitate to make suggestions as to a national home, lest they be called fanatic.

According to the Prophet Isaiah, Chapter I, Paragraph 27, "Zion shall be redeemed" through justice, and her converts through righteousness. Only a present existence founded upon truth and righteousness, can hope to have a "future."

A record of conduct as it existed between nations and their leaders, might help us all to more fully comprehend that we are created equal human beings with individual desires, and to draw the line of demarcation between what is right and what is wrong.

It might be well to remove all tariffs so that the markets of one nation would be open to all other nations. These human problems together with that of our unemployment and racketeers can be solved, through the development of increased knowledge in international affairs.

Man is entitled to reach the age of 60 with security assured for the remaining years of life. When two Jews enter the synagogue, be it a wedding or an entertainment or general meeting, or when they chance to sit with each other at an opera, they talk only of business.

The Plan to rebuild Israel is comprehensive in scope and includes even the building of zeppelins with a capacity of 200 passengers or 100 tons of freight; submarines capable of submerging to a depth sufficient to permit divers to search the ocean floor; railroads and highways 500 feet wide at intervals for bus, automobile and bicycle traffic; camps where men and women shall work toward the building up of the village to a population of 100,000 inhabitants; to be followed by the building up of a Hebrew "Hollywood" and a colorful city of hotels and private residences in the design of stone castles dating back a period of 4000 years with parks and winding streams, sailboats, rowboats, canoes to attract tourists from all the world.

XV. Unsafe and Unwelcome

Leaders among the Israelites witness the situation as it exists on the six continents today, and observe that not only the poor Hebrew is unsafe but likewise the wealthy Jew is endangered, his freedom and right to live as do the individuals of other nations on the earth.

They cannot hope to enjoy life, knowing they are unwelcome wherever they are living. Why is humanity so unjust and unkind, man to his fellowman, Christians and Jews alike, all over the world!

Christians must realize that they cannot continue to wipe out the Anti-Semitic people from the earth. Today, the Israelites are the only nation struggling to uphold the Old Testament as the foundation for human respect.

At the present time there can be little peace, with the nations of Europe and Asia at war. A solution of Germany's problem where the power of Adolf Hitler prevails, might be brought about by dismantling of the German empire among all of the European nations exclusive of the nations of Italy and Russia.

Even the Rabbis of today have a union, and this must be changed. Meanwhile, the life of the Hebrew layman moves along from cradle to the grave... family... work... worry... then Kadish... to the synagogue, to say -- "Kakayekon Veyomakon."

Just as the emblem of Freemasonry signified

"Builder of God's Temple" -- so shall the common emblem adopted for use by every nation of the United National League, signify that they are builders of God's temple and respect the rights of all of their member nations.

This Plan contemplates regarding the homeland:

1. Detail plans regarding capital and labor, grade and high schools, banking and real estate, agriculture and the raising of cattle and sheep for wool and for tanning, with storage houses of sufficient capacity to hold surplus products;

2. Detail plans regarding battleships and airships as a potential protection to other member nations in the United National League, with the understanding that every individual enlisting in their army or navy or air force, must return to the country of which he is a citizen upon discharge from such service;

3. Detail plans regarding the restoration of the Temple of Jerusalem, declaration of a three-day holiday upon its completion, with a new calendar year beginning as of that date;

4. Detail plans regarding government regulation of tribal games in the homeland, such as lotteries, horse racing and chariot racing; the government to maintain free stables and food for the horses, and any individual may enter his horse or chariot in a race merely by applying to the government for an entrance card.

All horses entering such a race shall bear a number, and all persons holding paid tickets may be eligible to select a particular number and participate in the five winning horses.

XVI. African Capital City

When the Capital City of Israel has been laid out in the territory selected somewhere in Africa, construction shall be limited to a strip within two miles of its boundary line until such time as it is completely settled when construction may be extended to the center of the city itself.

Through the gathering together of all Asiatic and African lost Tribes of Abraham, research will uncover the truths of the past. Each caravan shall be comprised of Israelite volunteers from the United States, Great Britain and France, acting under a staff of five high ranking officers of whom one member shall be a Hebrew, to include in its personnel a unit of doctors, druggists, nurses, mechanics and laborers.

Before any construction is started there shall be maps to indicate every section of the territory, together with oil or mineral deposits; and there shall be research to indicate the crops best suited to the various sections, also the parcels of land best suited to horses, sheep and cattle ranges.

All street lanterns shall be of a design 24 inches in height, 18 inches in diameter at the base, 12 inches at the top, with 12 panes of glass on each of the four sides in colors to represent the 12 Tribal flags of Israel. Inside, there shall be a round wick to diffuse the light evenly on all sides.

No Rabbi shall be permitted to sit as a judge in the Capital City courts -- book of Micah, chapter three, paragraph 11. Further, if any Jew should be found working on the Sabbath day, Saturday, thereby not abiding by the laws of the Old Testament, he shall not touch an unsealed bottle or barrel of wine; and in the event that he does so, it shall not be offered for sale.

Should it develop that there has been mismanagement of the funds of any individual, the government shall pay such damage and proceed to confine the offender in prison with no privilege of being visited by any relative or friend during incarceration, or of performing work of any kind -- only that of reading or writing in his cell. In this connection, there shall be a lottery conducted every 30 days and each individual participating may play up to five dollars.

The college shall teach a thorough knowledge of farming in addition to the course of the student's own choice, engineering, medicine, et cetera; the college shall also teach the raising of cattle and planting of trees, hunting and fishing, and use of firearms for protection against wild animals or forest outlaws.

XVII. Kingdom of Israel

All over the world, Israel continues to celebrate as of old the Jewish New Year, Rosh Hashoni and Yom Kippur; in March, the Passover. They pray that during the year to come, they may be returned into Jerusalem under the Kingdom of Yehudo.

Israel shall pay a sum of money in consideration of a share of land for its national homeland from either the British or the French government, to be witnessed by a representative each of the United States and the Mohammedan Chiefs. The colony of Israel shall make a substantial down payment, and when the balance is paid they shall receive a guaranty deed stipulating that whatever oil or minerals may be found in the territory shall belong to the Kingdom of Israel in entirety.

The boundary lines of the Kingdom of Israel in North-Central Africa shall be definitely established, together with the National Flag of Yehudo, and the Constitution drawn from the laws laid down in the Old Testament and from the principles of the Talmud. The constitution shall be contained on one sheet of parchment bearing the signature of one representative each from Israel, the United States, Great Britain, France and the Mohammedan Chiefs.

The Kingdom of Israel shall be founded on a democratic system, as set forth in book form describing the character of the government and its constitution.

The Kingdom of Israel shall be a democracy with free speech and free vote, in which the majority shall rule by virtue of its constitution and laws. Steamship, aeroplane and railroad lines shall be government owned for the protection of the citizens; whereas, manufacturing, buying and selling shall be privately owned under government supervision to permit no room for any of the present day isms.

The Kingdom of Israel shall comprise cities and villages, farmlands and irrigation, railroads and highways -- dams to supply electrical power, deep harbors and rivers. From the date of opening to colonization, thousands of Israelites can be expected to emigrate to the national homeland either for business reasons or for employment.

The Kingdom of Israel shall establish definite plans for a cabinet or council. Under this democracy each and every individual shall receive the protection of the government, and in turn accept a responsibility to his country where he shall be permitted to enjoy freedom in the short span of life.

The Kingdom of Israel shall permit no Rabbi associations, no Workers unions, no Businessmen's associations, no rackets of any kind in any part of the homeland. Through research there shall be compiled the name of the village where Abraham was born, the nature of that country and its religion, their culture and their manners.

XVIII. The National Homeland

Israel should acquire her national homeland as a place of refuge where Hebrew refugees might flee in subsequent clashes between Anti-Semites and Jews. Hence, the urgent necessity for the homeland as founded on the Old Testament.

Israel's desire is freedom for the entire world and a homeland where the Hebrew may stand on the same footing as the individual of any Christian nation, entering in the activity of the whole world whether they had to do with invention or stratosphere flying. Accordingly, the Press should come out with a full page under the caption "Israel" to be followed by the Flag of Yehudo and an editorial on the settling of the Jews in the homeland.

With this question settled, the Israelite masses will begin to emigrate and to build for themselves a permanent homeland under their own flag, no longer to be again discriminated against as has been experienced in Albania, Austria, Poland, Rumania and Czecho-Slovakia. It can be expected that there will immediately be substantial donations of plows, wagons and tools, and in a short time these would be loaded for shipment along with perhaps 100,000 pioneers from many different countries filled with a desire to settle in peace and to build up their homeland.

Each and every Hebrew pilgrim into the new home shall swear allegiance to its constitution, and the rebuilding of Israel can be started immediately upon a properly balanced aggregation so signifying their intentions from among the field of historians, philosophers, pilots, physicians, designers, engineers, artists, playwrights, musicians.

A camp shall be built to receive all pioneers who pass through the gate into this land, for physical examination and biographical record of each, where his present name shall be recorded and sealed against public inspection, to be exchanged for a new name of Asiatic or African conformance to the race of Israel; to forget the past and make a new start with a new name in the homeland. Now is the time to take action and to start the building up of the homeland, the first city thus founded to be in three sections:

1. A "Hollywood" for the production of motion pictures;
2. A "Capital" similar to Washington, D. C., for business and residences;
3. A "Ghetto" with public and grammar schools for all languages represented.

A pioneer village in the homeland will be constructed with one main and two cross streets, buildings of modern design and pastel shades of adobe; grade school, high school and college buildings; water mill for manufacture of flour, and the Flag of Yehudo flying from all government structures. Under government regulation, the homeland shall specialize in agriculture, the raising of every food adaptable.

XIX. The Palestine Promise

The Israelites claim Palestine on the basis of God's promise to Abraham, that it shall be a home for his children. In this same contract in the Old Testament, is God's promise to Isaac and Jacob that Palestine shall be a home for their children.

The land of Palestine having been promised by God to the children of Israel, it must be returned to them by the nations of the earth. The question arises, how can Israel obtain Palestine?

The Christian nations of today, believers in both the Old and the New Testaments, are reluctant to preach in their churches the fulfillment of prophecy and the approaching return of Israel to Palestine. On the other hand, the political leaders are not furthering the return of the Israelites as prophesied in the books and chapters of the Old Testament of the bible.

During the reign of King Solomon, the 12 Tribes of Israel were united in Palestine under the emblem of the precious stones representing the 12 Tribal flags, which symbol the high priest wore on his chest and it was called the "Afout." The Jewish Congress considers annually those questions brought to its attention through the executive secretary and then launches the usual drive for another million dollars to rebuild Palestine.

With regard to Palestine, the small territory controlled by Britain is not ample for those Israelites who are not welcomed into other lands.

"Palestine" extending into Syria on the north, would involve revolt in Syria as well as in Arabia, and both Italy and Germany would resort to any means to prevent that. In northern Palestine there is sufficient room for only some 3,000,000 Hebrews and then the same conditions might apply as in Albania, Austria, Poland or Rumania at the hands of Germany, Italy and Russia.

In arriving at a peaceful return of Israel to the land of Palestine, it must be considered that Italy may strenuously oppose a national homeland for the Jews under guardianship of the United States, Great Britain and France. For example, Italian representatives may attempt to set up Catholicism in the homeland and Germany or Russia may attempt to establish their doctrines; thus, the one acting in the name of Jesus and the other in the name of the Workers, might threaten the very foundation of the Kingdom of Israel.

The Kingdom of Israel with a population running into millions would stand as a potential protection to the safety of Great Britain and France, against the threats of Italy or any other Catholic country, since there would never be a covenant of any kind between Catholicism and Israel. Upon the founding of the homeland, there can be compiled a history of the Israelites as a nation from the birth of Abraham down to the present time, all to be done under government supervision with no ism of any kind to influence the work.

XX. Flag of Yehudo

Upon the death of Jacob of Canaan, his son Yehudo succeeded to the "throne" and at that time the 12 sons were as 12 United Tribes. His kingdom took the name of the national kingdom of Yehudo.

Palestine is the land promised to Yehudo for a Kingdom of Israel, a homeland for all of the 10 Lost Tribes. Yehudo reigned 400 years and was conquered by the Romans, so that today northern Italy is 80% Hebrew descent.

The Old Testament recognizes King David as the first king of Israel, descended from the Tribe of Yehudo. Upon the death of King Solomon, the 12 Tribes of Israel were divided into two kingdoms with 10 of the Tribes in the northern part of Palestine being known as Israel, and the two remaining Tribes in the southern part being known as Yehudo with Jerusalem their capital.

Today, the Jews scattered throughout Europe are descendants of Yehudo while those throughout Asia and Africa are descended from the 10 Lost Tribes of Israel. The flags of the Christian nations are not the Flag of Yehudo; likewise the religion of the Israelite is at variance, the holidays and language, and even his appearance.

The national flag of Israel shall be the Flag of Yehudo, sky-blue in color with the emblem of a lion in the lower left-hand corner, 12 squares in the colors of precious stones representing the 12 Tribal flags in the upper right-hand corner; and at the top of the flagstaff, a golden star representing the emblem of the spirit of King David.

Upon establishment of the Kingdom of Israel in North-Central Africa, the Flag of Yehudo shall be exhibited in every ship, train, aeroplane, etc., and in each classification it may be dedicated to a deceased leader in that particular industry. In this connection, the Registration Department of the government shall maintain a record of all deceased leading heroes and heroines in Hebrew history.

The homeland shall specialize in the raising of every food adaptable to the land, in butter and cheese of cows and sheep, also salomi in which only the fats of duck, chicken or goose may be used, well preserved under Kosher law and under the direct supervision of private Jewish citizens. However, congregations of Rabbis as private citizens may have the right to investigate Kosher work under the government regulation; and as regards Rabbis, in the homeland they will be brought up in the clean, moral atmosphere of their own country.

In the Capital City of the homeland, there shall be a courthouse where all citizens may bring their complaints to be settled with justice to both sides, after full consideration on the part of the court. To be eligible to sit as a judge, the male or female applicant must be a graduate of law school with full knowledge of the laws governing 10 nations, and must be in active practice as a state lawyer.

XXI. History of Nations

Israel possesses the most ancient history in the existing world. The history of every nation dating back to the birth of Abraham shall be compiled separately and individually in full detail to indicate:

With reference to the king and his household, his palace and mode of life, their style of clothing and recreation, their form of religion and whom it benefited; with regard to the government and its organization, the leaders and priests, masters and slaves, mode of life.

In compiling the history of the various nations from which the 10 Lost Tribes will be gleaned, every phase of business and home life should be covered: The nation from which the individual comes, their religion, his descent and character, business conduct and his financial responsibility; the aggregate of which combined research should solve the question of disposition of the vast fortunes of Israelites down through the ages to the present time. Such a compilation of history will disclose that the first in the line of Popes who maintain they were delegated by God to rule the world, and in the name of such authority permit invasion of smaller nations, was originally ordained as a Cardinal of the Vatican and later ordained as a Pope.

In order to compile the history of every nation and also, the separate history of Abraham and of the country of Terah, it will be necessary to assemble all available books on the building up of the nations, their government and language, their religion and art.

Upon completion of the history of every nation, then there shall be compiled separately and in detail, the history of Abraham and the country of Terah from whence he came, from the date of birth until he left the vicinity with Lot, son of his brother Haran, and moved on to the plains of Sodom and Gomorrah; the story of Abraham's rebelling against the king of Terah and their religion, the idols which his father was manufacturing for the king; of King Abimelech moving across the desert with his caravan, the dwindling food supplies, becoming lost and then finally reaching the land of Abraham;

of Abraham the master, who taught his slaves to believe in a spiritual God, replenishing the food supplies of the king;

of Abraham's demand that Abimelech sign a parchment bearing evidence that he was not a god, and the caravan then departing in peace; of Abraham's wanderings among the nations with this evidence to show them that human flesh "was not a god," and of Abimelech's urge to war against Abraham;

of Abimelech's uniting with the kings of other nations to war against Sodom and Gomorrah, to capture Lot and represent him to the other kings as Abraham.

XXII. History of Abraham

The history of Abraham shall be compiled in detail from the date of his birth in the country of Terah -- The story of King Abimelech's uniting with the kings of other nations to war against Sodom and Gomorrah, to capture Lot and represent him to the other kings as Abraham and to force Lot to deny the parchment evidence and take the defeated nations into bondage; of Abraham's followers overtaking the victorious kings, rescuing Lot and returning to the nations their slaves and gold that had been confiscated; of the jealousy arising between Abraham's two wives, Sarah and Hagar who was an Egyptian princess, and of her departing with her son Ishmael across the desert wastes and their suffering for lack of water, her prayers to God and his leading her to water with the promise that Ishmael would live and become a nation; of Ishmael as the rich master, his home and Abraham's visits to the home of Ishmael; of the sacrifice of the lamb and Sarah's death, believing that Isaac had been slain, and of Abraham's selecting the family burial ground; of Abraham's dispatching his eldest servant Eliezer, back into the country of Terah in India to bring a wife for his son Isaac, of his stopping at a well and Rebekah approaching with a pitcher on her shoulder, and the eventual return of the caravan to the home of Isaac; of the birth to Rebekah of twin sons Esau and Jacob, of their quarrels and flight of Jacob, whereupon Esau sent his son in pursuit to slay him;

of Jacob's reaching the village of Haran in the country of his uncle Laban and, coming upon the stone well and beholding his daughter Rachel, he rolled away the stone cover of the well as she approached; of Laban's going out to meet Jacob, his marriage to the daughter Leah, serving seven years for the hand of Rachel and taking also as wives their maid-servants Zilpah and Bilhah... his third and fourth wives; of Jacob's return to his father's home in Canaan, overtaken by Laban and attacked by Esau, of Jacob's victory and the angel of God changing his name to Israel;
of Jacob's reaching the plains near the city of Shechem where his daughter Dinah was dishonored by the son of the king, who was forced to covenant with the sons Simeon and Levi that every male in his country would be circumcised; of Jacob's sons capturing as slaves all of the women in Shechem and bringing them into his camp, the uprising in surrounding countries and return to the home of Isaac; of Yehudo's bargaining with the Egyptians to sell his brother Joseph into bondage, and of his being brought into the presence of their King Pharaoh; of the family of Jacob being brought into Egypt and put into bondage, and Joseph's son Ephraim rebelling against the king.

XXIII. North-Central Africa Territory

This Plan for a national homeland for Israel contemplates selection of a tract of land in North-Central Africa running north from the Sahara desert, with all nations of the world cooperating in the rebuilding of the holy Temple in Jerusalem. This tract of land is the only solution at the present time, where Mohammedans are in the majority in that sparsely settled territory.

Can Great Britain or France be expected to assign unoccupied territory in North-Central Africa, for the Kingdom of Israel? This tract is thinly populated and is the logical selection for a homeland for the Jews. In the United States, leaders among the Hebrews would have no fear of being expelled but they would at the same time, feel a sense of security in the knowledge of a homeland in North-Central Africa. Also, in the tract are wild animals such as deer, elk and turkeys that are Kosher meat, and all such animals shall be raised for domestic use.

With the Kingdom of Israel established, teachings shall be prepared in book form for use in the public school, high school and college, founded on morals and respect: 1. A course of study where all female students shall be taught a proper understanding of human nature, how to conduct herself in the presence of others in whatever surroundings, how to live with her husband under whatever conditions arise after marriage, how to raise an infant from a babe of four months to a child of 20 years of age, then on up to middle age and from there, until old age;

2. A course of study where all male students shall be taught similarly a proper understanding of their obligations to the female, such philosophy to be gleaned from the Talmud and other ancient Israelite culture as applied to the present time.

Within the enclosure of the college-city, exclusive of food raised by the students, the government shall provide salaried professors to teach them, also the necessary farm implements, books, clothing and medicine. Clothing for all students shall be uniform and similar to that worn by the American cowboy, but with the addition of white hat and shoes.

Upon graduation from college and marriage, those individuals who have not taken the professional course shall be entitled to receive a parcel of land. Those who do not immediately marry shall be entitled to receive from the government only a position at a living wage, in line with their educational training.

In the Capital city of the homeland, there shall be a courthouse where three judges shall hear each case and make their decision; there shall be one witness each for plaintiff and defendant, and there shall be presented the life story of all individuals in the complaint.

XXIV. The College-City Enclosure

At the end of the vacation following graduation from high school, all graduates shall enter upon their college education. They shall reside within the college enclosure until graduation with the permission, however, to be visited by relatives and friends.

In the center of this college-city on the bank of a river emptying into the ocean, there shall be set aside a tract of approximately two square miles of combination desert and mountainous lands, for two schools -- theoretical and mechanical training of engineers and of pilots with reference to stratosphere flying, the manufacture of aeroplanes and automobiles, steamships and sailing vessels, electric, steam and gas engines. Each student shall also be taught in the proper season to work the land within the enclosure, to raise sufficient foods for their own needs with ample surplus in event of an off season, also to ride the range and raise horses, cows and sheep; the graduates would thus return to their families capable of earning a livelihood wherever they may locate, whether on tilled or virgin soil.

Any student of the college-city who may escape prior to graduation shall be subject to arrest without bail until the date of trial, and should he then be found of bad character he shall be confined in a reformatory for a period of time depending upon the extent of guilt;

the student upon serving his sentence shall be returned to his college activities. In the event of refusal to resume educational work he shall be confined in the government jail camp and perform work for his living, the camp to be a non-profit organization.

On the other hand, during the trial of such student of the college-city, should it develop that he had escaped because of ill-treatment on the part of the college management, then the contributing professor or official shall be confined in prison where he shall be compelled to wear the regulation prison garb of black and white stripes, with no privilege of seeing any of his relatives or friends during the term of confinement.

History has taught us that in ancient times astrology played a big role, and in the homeland there shall be a special college based upon the knowledge of astrology and science, from which a council of research workers shall go out personally to accumulate from readers of the planets and stars, tea leaves and cards, data to be compiled in book form for inclusion as a professional course in the college under government regulation.

The history of Abraham compiled in detail from the date of his birth in Terah, shall conclude with the story of the birth to one of the women of the Tribe of Levi, of the babe Moses who was raised into manhood by the princess daughter of King Pharaoh.

XXV. The African Settlement

Consider the hundreds of millions of people living a life devoid of progress on the two continents, Asia and Africa! In almost every nation the Israelites are fearful of being expelled, but how about Christian leaders in Asia and Africa?

Among the 12 Tribes of Israel scattered over the earth there are today approximately 100,000,000 souls, most of whom are on the continents of Asia and of Africa. Consider also, the colony of Israel in sparsely populated North-Central Africa under the guardianship of the United States, Great Britain and France.

On the other hand, the Hebrews would have no desire to settle in the extreme northern part of Africa bordering on the Mediterranean Sea. Also, how may the construction of villages and highways in the Kingdom of Israel be undertaken in the event of an initial investment insufficient to complete the project!

The "Hollywood" motion picture section shall be laid out first, sufficiently large to accommodate an industry of 1,000,000 population gathered from all of the Lost Tribes of Israel, from Europe, Asia, Africa, etc. It is reasonable to assume that motion picture producers will extend loans for the purpose of business and residential construction concurrent with the building up of the Hollywood motion picture section.

In the "Hollywood" of our own country, we shall have our own prairie cowboys and love songs. And, adjoining the Hollywood of Israel, there shall be a city of approximately 3000 acres of government property enclosed by a fence to indicate property lines, in which there shall be a school for each and every language spoken today, also the dead languages which may still be found in the uncivilized tribes of Asia and Africa. Enrolment in all of these schools shall be to the capacity of each, and upon graduation from such a four-year course each of the students will be able to speak at least three languages, the English, French and Hebrew; and will have acquired a fuller comprehension of human wisdom and respect for his fellowman, which would gradually spread throughout the world bringing peace and safety to Israel.

The Plan as regards building up of a homeland for Israel contemplates among other things, that upon graduation from public school at the age of 12 years all students shall become wards of the government until they have graduated from high school and college, with presentation to each student of parade uniforms in the 12 colors of the Tribes of Israel. Likewise, with presentation to every male graduate from aviation college of an aeroplane for his own use, the aggregate of which would be quite a defense factor against foreign aggression. There shall be a compulsory high school course of four years, with a vacation of six months following graduation.

XXVI. The Jury System

There shall be a jury system under which no person, male or female, shall be permitted to sit as a juror who is less than 40 years of age, or who has been a Rabbi or engaged in active practice as a state lawyer. For each trial by jury, the jurors shall be chosen by number from a registry where the names of all jurors have been sealed in individual envelopes.

The registration department shall place these envelopes in a clay receptacle and deliver them to the draft department, whereupon a board of 12 shall swear on the Old Testament that they will proceed to draw out 12 envelopes each, the first so drawn to apply to the first juror; and the 12 envelopes for each juror shall be then sealed in a larger envelope, bearing the date and hour of sealing. For each trial, the large envelope containing the 12 individual envelopes shall be sent out as the jury so chosen, the large envelope first sealed representing the jury chosen for the first trial.

In the presence of the three judges to hear the case, the state lawyer for the prosecution and for the defense shall open the large envelope and deliver the 12 individual envelopes to the jury department. The jury department shall then deliver the 12 individual envelopes to the registration department where they shall be opened -- the numbers therein matched with their corresponding names in the registry, and referred back to trial court.

Upon the conclusion of each trial, the jurors shall report back to the registration department and become available for further duty. Each juror shall have a general knowledge of 10 other nations, with full knowledge of the Hebrew and two other chief religions, also a perfect college record and reputation for courage.

Upon graduation from these colleges, any individual who deliberately commits a wrongdoing for personal gain shall be removed by the government from society with others, according to the extent of such evil action. Such a system of college schools shall serve also through uncovering many now lost but original words and expressions used in the first Talmud and Old Testament, to now enable us to understand those Talmudic laws of early Hebrew life in ancient times.

The initial step in preparing books for use in these colleges, high schools and grade schools will be to collect all ancient Hebrew books beginning with the Old Testament, the Talmud, the Madrosh-Rabo, the Shoolchon-Orach, and the Kabaola. At the age of seven, each child shall be provided by the government with his own horse, which shall be his means of transportation during all of high school years.

The high school year shall run a full term of 12 months annually, with no vacation at the student's home or in the environment of home life; clothing to be uniform, similar to that of the American cowboy.

XXVII. The Ghetto Section

There shall be a Ghetto section in each city of the national homeland, for the reason that the Israelite population will be gleaned from all nations. There will be a number of Chinese-Hebrews who look like the Chinese and speak their language, and there will be a Ghetto neighborhood for these people and their families, together with schools for the two languages, Hebrew and Chinese.

There will be another Ghetto quarter for the Jews from the lost Tribes in India, who look like the people of India and speak their language, with schools for the two languages, Hebrew and that spoken by them in India. Their homes will be constructed after the fashion of those from which they have come; all such Ghetto residences to be the property of the "Hollywood" Picture Studios.

After these people have lived in the Ghetto environment for a period of three years, they shall become full citizens and be eligible for new permanent homes. They shall also become eligible to property ownership in villages beyond the borders of the Ghettos, where individual residences will be drawn by number with no restriction as to where such Jewish family came from.

Through each Ghetto quarter with the culture and language of the countries from which these people have come, shall be produced the history of these Israelites and of the nation where they lived as brought down by many authors, an opportunity to reclaim words of the Old Testament and the Talmud, no doubt still spoken.

In this connection, no organization shall maintain a Rabbi for wages in any Kosher department of food or wines, and all such food or wine shall be handled by 100% religious Jews. If a Jew should be found working on our Sabbath day, he shall not touch Kosher foods, and in the event that he does so they cannot be offered for sale.

All transportation lines, electrical power, water supplies and educational institutions shall be government owned to eliminate profiteering. All other industries may be privately owned, under government supervision and under government protection.

All judges in the courts shall be considered members of national military rank, shall be appointed for life to serve at a specified salary and may not resign. There shall be only one higher judicial office, that of chief judge. All judges, state lawyers and jurors must have a knowledge of astrology as it pertains to human life and a full understanding of criminal tendencies.

From a child of three years of age to a college graduate in the early twenties, education shall be compulsory and under government supervision, with a proper appreciation of the right to human life and happiness in respect to others. To be eligible to sit as a judge, the applicant must be in the employment of the government as a state lawyer, during which there have been promotions.

XXVIII. Plan for the Rise of a Nation

The Plan for the rise of the nation and the rebuilding of the national homeland, shall be typed in manuscript form in comprehensive detail to indicate each and every step from the first "Declaration Day" of freedom which date shall also be celebrated annually.

In the rebuilding of the nation, we shall proceed to organize a proper system of government where there will be a full margin of freedom and liberty to all.

All over the world, Israel continues to celebrate as of old the Jewish New Year, Rosh Hashoni and Yom Kippur, also the Passover, praying that during the year to come we may be returned into Palestine under the Kingdom of Israel and the Flag of Yehudo.

Israel shall pay a sum of money in consideration of a share of land for its national homeland from either the British or the French government, and the Kingdom of Israel shall receive a guaranty deed in return.

The boundary lines of the Kingdom of Israel in North-Central Africa shall be definitely established together with the national Constitution, drawn from the laws laid down in the Old Testament and from the principles of the Talmud, contained on one sheet of parchment.

The Kingdom of Israel shall be founded on a democratic system with free speech and free vote, in which the majority shall rule by virtue of its constitution and laws.
